NORTH BRIDGTON Bridgton Academy Notes—Visitors in town—Miss Gould Attending Convention—School Enjoyed picnic—Guests at Howard's—Hawkins Camping at Camp Howard—Miss Kilton Home for Summer.

Bridgton Academy, through the will of the late Mrs. Mary P. Perley of Philadelphia, has just been left the sum of one hundred thousand dollars. This is given for the purpose of establishing a school for the education of girls. This sum makes more than seven hundred dollars which is more than annually to students who show marked ability along various scholastic lines, or who are needy and deserving of assistance. This scholarship is given to be known as the Samuel P. Perley scholarship, and the income from this fund is to be used to assist some pupil from the town of Naples.

This new scholarship is within keeping of the original founding of the school over one hundred and twenty-five years ago, which was that of giving to as many girls as possible the best possible education at a minimum cost. The fact that the Bridgton Academy at the present time is doing this is a credit to the school, and it is a fact that this large sum is given each year to aid students striving for an education, but one of the many pupils of the school each fall. Also many of the pupils are interested in the work of the church, and they have stood ready in many cases to assist a worthy boy or girl in a college course. Bridgton Academy no doubt gives out in prizes and scholarships more than any other school in the state, to promising young women. Each year it is necessary to send away many students desiring admission to this old academy, and it is a fact that there is a shortage in the number of students at present.

It is noted that within a short time this money may be available to take care of this number which are obliged to leave each fall. The text of the will of Mary P. Perley, which pertains to Bridgton Academy is as follows: "To the trustees of the North Bridgton Academy, at North Bridgton, Maine, I give the sum of three thousand dollars for a scholarship to be known as the Samuel P. Perley Scholarship. The income of this fund is to be used for the education of a student from Naples, Maine, if there is no student, for academy scholarship."

BIFOCALS

As folks grow older their eyes lose the elasticity of youth and a different correction is necessary for near and far distances.
That is why ordinary bifocals are tell-tales of advancing years. Not so with Nokrome. It's reading segment is practically invisible so that the lenses are as good looking as single vision lenses.
Another advantage—Nokromes are free from color fringes, which means that in the reading segment as well as the distance portion your glasses will give sharp, sparkling definition.
The Nokrome is the finest lens known to optical science. That is why we recommend it.

LOVELL
Delightful Day Spent in Oxford by Club Members
It was on a June day, one of those rare June days that Lovell describes in "The Vision of Sir Launfal" when a party of twenty-five members of The Woman's Library Club started out from Lovell in response to an invitation given by Mrs. May Ring to attend a bridge luncheon at her home in the town of Oxford.

At about one o'clock five cars drew up to the door, and fifteen minutes later the sixth car pulled in having been delayed by a flat tire.
After the arrival of all the guests the hostess served a delicious lunch of vegetable salad, sandwiches, punch, ice cream and assorted cakes. The luncheon was served on the porch which was prettily decorated with wild flowers. We all did justice to the lunch while at the same time we enjoyed the beautiful view of Thompson's Pond and the surrounding country to be had from our vantage point on the porch.
After luncheon six tables played bridge until four o'clock when the prizes were awarded. Mrs. Bessie Stearns took the first prize. A bridge set of Congress Playing Cards. Mrs. Violet Plummer took the consolation prize. A handkerchief.
Mrs. Addie Kimball was lucky to be sitting in the marked chair that had the flag on it and so secured a good book as a prize.
We were charmingly entertained by the whole family—even Polly the parrot entered in and did her part by singing for the guests "There is a Happy Land."
We rolled homeward towards the setting sun, singing as we went, "For this is the end of a Perfect Day."

hostess served a delicious lunch of vege-
on the porch.
After luncheon six tables played bridge
awarded. Mrs. Bessie Stearns took the
the consolation prize. A handkerchief.
Mrs. Addie Kimball was lucky to
book as a prize.
We were charmingly entertained by the
the guests "There is a Happy Land."
the end of a Perfect Day."

"KELVINATORS soon pay for themselves . . . sometimes in food preservation alone!"

That is what owners everywhere will tell you

THERE are people who believe that an electric refrigerator is something for the well-to-do—that it costs "a lot of money." This is an entirely wrong impression . . . if you buy the New Silent Kelvinator!
For, first of all, the New Kelvinator is remarkably inexpensive in its initial cost. And the terms on which you may own one are surprisingly generous.
Secondly, there is the fact that because of the splendid refrigeration it provides, food never spoils in a Kelvinator. Owners say that Kelvinators often quickly pay for themselves in food preservation alone.
Kelvinator's reliability is unquestioned as the product of the oldest manufacturer of electric home refrigeration. It is entirely automatic, no regulation needed.
And its many unusual features of convenience make it first choice in its field. Why not buy your Kelvinator now? Let us tell you about the attractive Kelvinator ReDisCo monthly budget plan.

A New Kelvinator Convenience
The New Silent Kelvinator is first to offer as standard equipment the rubber tray for quick removal of ice cubes. Frozen in this flexible rubber tray, the entire supply of ice cubes can be removed in a few seconds—without trouble, and without shrinkage of ice.
